The Oxford English Test from Oxford University Press is a quick and efficient way to obtain English language certification for A1-C1 level and is endorsed by the University of Oxford. The Oxford exam has been developed by experts in English language teaching of the worldly renowned Oxford University Press. Like to the Linguaskill and the APTIS exams, it is an adaptive-test that is completely computer based and supervised by Oxford exam centre invigilators, and also tests all 4 language skills (Reading, Listening, Writing and speaking).

Pros:

- reasonably priced
- short exam (only 2 hours)
- quick results and certificate in 14 days
- Adaptive official exam so that you cannot fail it!
- Online demo available
- It never expires!

Cons:

- less preparation material than with Cambridge Exam English
- only A2, B1 and B2 levels
- lack of interaction in the examination process

Candidates are graded to Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR). It is grades 51-140 and the candidate will receive a A1-C1 level certificate.
