

ENGLISH | MARC HUCKLE | @ www.intercambioidiomasonline.com

Intercambio Idiomasonline

VOCABULARY: FEELINGS
AND PERSONALITY
ADJECTIVES

Adjectives are used to describe different aspects of things, they make language colourful and interesting. We are going to look at the difference between feeling and personality adjectives in this post.

Sometimes an adjective can be used as a feeling or a personality traits, we can put emphasis on the fact that it is permanent by saying I am a ___ person.

E.g. My sister is always upbeat = My sister is an upbeat person.

Here is a comprehensive list of adjectives:

	POSITIVE	NEGATIVE
FEELINGS/MOODS	Calm Amazed Surprised Entertained Relaxed Excited Proud Cheerful/jolly/glad upbeat	Moody Upset Annoyed Shocked Fed-up Depressed Stressed Shy Grumpy
PERSONALITY TRAITS	Brave Chatty/sociable/outgoing Clever Generous Friendly Kind Funny/amusing Hard-working Easy-going	Cowardly Shy Thick/dumb/dense Stingy/tight/selfish Unfriendly Unkind Boring/dull Lazy Uptight