

USE OF ENGLISH: OPEN CLOZE

What is a bucket list?

Collect experiences and _____ (1) things. That is what we constantly hear from people who have lived life to the _____ (2) and done it all. What do you think you will think about on your deathbed? The mistakes you _____ (3) or what you wish you had done, but you never did. It is often said that people near the end have the tendency _____ (4) regret the things that they never found time for or even had the courage to do. Most people want to do typical things _____ (5) travel or even buy a specific possession, but everyone wants to experience something or other. _____ (6), it might be a good idea to make a bucket list. A bucket list is a type of list of experiences that you want to have or do before you die. It is a list of objectives or aims, if you like. _____ (7) it be to skydive, visit an important monument or have an extreme experience. I, _____ (8) sure, am keen to not feel remorse in my final hours of not living life to the full and for that reason I hope to give everything a try. I will do everything that I feel I should do as long as it does not harm anyone.

What is a bucket list?

Collect experiences and not things. That is what we constantly hear from people who have lived life to the full and done it all. What do you think you will think about on your deathbed? The mistakes you made or what you wish you had done, but you never did. It is often said that people near the end have the tendency to regret the things that they never found time for or even had the courage to do. Most people want to do typical things like travel or even buy a specific possession, but everyone wants to experience something or other. Thus, it might be a good idea to make a bucket list. A bucket list is a type of list of experiences that you want to have or do before you die. It is a list of objectives or aims, if you like. Whether it be to skydive, visit an important monument or have an extreme experience. I, for sure, am keen to not feel remorse in my final hours of not living life to the full and for that reason I hope to give everything a try. I will do everything that I feel I should do as long as it does not harm anyone.