What do you enjoy learning about?

Everyone wants to take steps in the right direction and learn something new each day. It does not matter if you are the least academic person in the world, you will try to learn new things each and every day. For some people it might be to learn a new trick on the skateboard whereas for others it could be a new dance move, but all people want to improve their knowledge and abilities. At the end of the day, it is just human nature. If we did not have this innate need to broaden our horizons, we would all be sitting around in some cave in Africa hiding from wild animals. What makes humans the most advanced species on the planet is this insatiable necessity to learn and the enjoyment that comes from it. It is our special gift and more importantly, our most powerful defense mechanism.
